

PlaylistSwap

A Spotify/Youtube playlist converter

PlaylistSwap will be a front-end focused web app using react and node as well as the YouTube and Spotify API's. Though it could be useful to anyone, the primary demographic for this app is working musicians. The main goal for this app is to reduce the friction in sharing set lists across groups of musicians that may subscribe to different streaming platforms. For data required from the user, the app will use PKCE for authentication so no user credentials will be stored so the app will only require a url for a public YouTube or Spotify playlist.
